In my Advance writing class, we had to write an "letter" to our body. I decided that I didn't really enjoy the idea of writing a real letter to my body, so I was allowed to change it to a fictional characters body, put into 1st person format. Enjoy!

Chapter 1 - My Rotten Body

1 - My Rotten Body

To my decomposing body,

How are you feeling, deep inside the ground on this frozen fall night? Are you comfortable in your cushioned casket? I hope so. I hope the beetles and worms aren't eating at you. They would bother me furious. I don't have to worry about that though: I'm not where you are. I'm sorry, I shouldn't have said that. It was inappropriate.

I know you don't want to be where you are right now, but it's your own fault. You shouldn't have done what you did. It wasn't funny; I didn't laugh. It made me very angry. You would know how angry, of course. You witnessed my fury the moment you took your last breath. Don't you dare blame me, though. You made me kill you.

Of course, no one misses you. You were me and I was you. You were my unfaithful twin and I never loved you. Not ever. But I don't have to worry about you anymore. You're deep inside the ground on this frozen fall night, in your cushioned casket. I hope you're having a dreadful time.

All my "love,"
Me.
