Niles Elwood Prower

likes: machines

dislikes: having to work with 'antique' machines such as The Cyclone.

race: fox and Seedrian crossbreed; looks like a Seedrian, though like her mother Cosmo

Sonen Prower

dislikes: being seperated for too long race: fox and Seedrian crossbreed; is a fox

Eliv The Raven

race: raven (or did you not read his full name?)

occ: none?

hobbies: star gazer

bio: A raven who was accepted into the Prower house after rescuing his sister. Somewhat a lonely figure, Eliv and his sister Eles had spent most of their lives being shunned, as well as not knowing who their parents were. Factually, Cosmet is quite fond of him, as he is to her.

Eles The Raven

age: 12

eye: emerald

personality: quiet, yet not quick to judge hair (or feathers): black likes: The Prower family

dislikes: Dr. Eggman

race: raven

occ: none

hobbies: star gazer

bio: A raven who was accepted into the Prower house after she was rescued by her twin brother, Eliv. She and Eliv are almost completely indistinguishable from each other, save for the fact that with Eles being female, thus wears female clothes.

By the way, I cut out a few of the guys on the list. Too bad.

Dr. Richard Southworth

age: 60

Weresheep (that's me)

Professor Arthur Von Dyke

Anth M. Southworth

age: stopped at 12

eye: brown

personality: comedian slash idiot; he invents, too

hair: brown

likes: Scratch and Grounder dislikes: evil

race: human, then became a zombie occ: works as a janitor for The G Malt Shoppe hobbies: cleaning

bio: Another version of myself. Anth died from a rare disease he was born with, but came back to life when Samael tried to get a servant out of it. Anth took the Necronomicon when James McCloud intervened in Samael's plan. Currently, Anth is the "speed" type of Team Necro alongside former egg-bots Scratch and Grounder.

A look into the future...

The Doomsday

bio: Not much is known about this extremely powerful mech. It's head is that of a real human skull, with two red eyes in the middle of the void of it's dark eye holes. It has black armor made of Darksteel, making it indestructable. Records show that it was created by Dr. Richard in an unauthorized attempt to stop The Great Evil from killing the population of Cerinia. Records also say that very faint brainwave patterns emit from the inside of the skull. It was shut down and sealed away before Cerinia was attacked. The Doomsday has powers we can only barely comprehend, as it was never found. The only info that was found was in Dr. Richard's diary, as well as a brainwave scan and thermal design of the mech. Top scientists now think that it is on Cerinia's terrorized landscape, hidden until it is awakened. But one question remains; is it good....or bad?

Done and done with these profiles. Any questions will be happily answered.
