1 - Can't stay.

The blizzard and the howling wind rushed threw the snow covered trees of the almost deserted forest. Almost deserted since a young man was making is way threw the forest .He shielded himself the best he could from the bitter cold with a long black cloth, The boy kept walking straight forward tonight he would sleep where ever is feet would laid him ,he hurried his pace a bit as he saw that the sun was starting to set. The snowy path he was following laid him to a small village, taking a look around the village he found out that there was nobody living there, a ghost town. He walk in a small house he couldnâ€™t walk further tonight, he was cold and tired a rest would do him no harm.

He pulled off cold wet cloth reveling his appearance he had midnight black hair about chin length and his eyes were of a soft lavender color. He was wearing tight black leather pants and a black tank top with a skull design over his chest he had a long black fingerless glove and a short one. He wears a lots of rings a his finger nails are black. But what sticks out the most in his look is a black cross, tabooed over his left eye. His cloth and heavy make up that he wears makes look like heâ€™s 19 while he only have the young age of 16.The boy started a fire in the fireplace he took out a comb from his bag and sat crossed legged on the floor by the fire taking as much heat as possible, he start brushing his hair gently. He was starting to enjoy the warmth when he heard a noise coming from outside. He jumped to his feet and grabbed his cloth the he had put out to dry, he then toke out a sword that was in his bag and ran outside. He saw two other men at first it seemed that they were being attack by wolves but the beasts seemed much larger then common wolves and they couldnâ€™t be bears. He silently made his way up to the two men he was careful not to draw any attention to himself. He slash one of the beats head off witch toke the other four ones by surprise scaring them away. He looked up at the two mens one of them was injured he had a large cut across his chest. Looking closer at him you could see the he was quite handsome, short brown hairs and those gorgeous green eyes. The other one didnâ€™t seem hurt only very shock, he had long red hair tied in a low pony tail and he has brown eyes.

The redhead stood up and helped his friend to his feet, the young men walked back to the small house. The redhead understood by his slow pace that he wanted him and his brunette friend to fellow witch he did without objection. Inside the house the redhead lay his injured companion on the couch.

â€œThanks for the help, Iâ€™m Val, may I know who you are?â€ asked the redhead now known as Val.

â€œMy name his Eclipse.â€ said the black haired young man as he pulled out some bandages out of his bag and handing them to Val. Val nodded a thanks.

â€œFriend over there is Patrick.â€said Val bandaging up his friend.â€You gonna be Ok buddy?â€ He ask.

â€œYeah.â€said Patrick before drifting to sleep. Eclipse was sitting beside the fire again he was brushing his hairs also only this time he had switch cloths. He was wearing a large black sweatshirt and black boxers. Val sat beside Eclipse.

â€œWhat are you doing out in this lost village?â€ asked Val.

“I was walking to the next city I guess, I wouldn’t have made it through these mountains tonight with the blizzard.” said Eclipse, no emotion showed in his voice. Val stood up and went searching through the closet where he found some blankets. He gave one to Eclipse and covered Patrick with one keeping one for himself. That night Eclipse fell asleep beside the fire, Val found himself a bed upstairs and decided to sleep in it, he was about to ask Eclipse if he wanted to sleep there but he was already sleeping and he seemed comfortable to wake up.

The next morning when Eclipse woke up Patrick was lying by his side and had his arm around him. He felt his cheek grow hot, he felt very uneasy at having another man so close yet he did not know why. He slowly moved away from him, he sat on the couch and started brushing his hair. Val came in looking all sleepy he was going to sit beside Eclipse but stumbled on Patrick which woke him up.

“What’s wrong?” asked Patrick all confused.

“Sorry man, I didn’t see you.” said Val.

“It’s Ok.” said Patrick. Eclipse took out of his bag a couple of apples.

“Are you two hungry?” asked Eclipse.

“Sure.” both of them said in unison, Eclipse blushed as Patrick took the apples from him and gently.

“Thank.” said Patrick, Patrick and Val hate the apples like it was the first time they saw some. They were quite hungry since they had not eaten at all yesterday.

“You’re not eating?” asked Val.

“I’m not hungry.” said Eclipse as he pulled out some make-up from his bag. He put on black eye shadow and black lipstick. He then put back on his black leather pants but kept his sweatshirt. Outside there was a bad storm, he wouldn’t go out today. Val was removing the bandage for Patrick to see if the wound had healed yet and it started to bleed.

“You’re bleeding.” said Eclipse, his eyes turned crimson red as he saw the blood.

“Is there a problem?” asked Patrick, Eclipse stood up and quickly went in the kitchen.

“What’s got into him?” asked Val.

“He probably dislikes the sight of blood.” said Patrick.

“And he goes around chopping the heads of those monsters.” said Val.

“Monsters?” asked Patrick kinda of upset.

“Sorry man, I didn’t mean to call you a monster, besides I wanted to talk about them not you.” said Val.

“But there just like me.” said Patrick.

“In appearance there haft tiger, haft human. But in the inside there much more deferent. You would hurt an innocent person.” said Val. “I’m a werewolf and that makes us not to different in a way.” he add.

“Yeah you’re right.” said Patrick as Val put on some new bandages. “Should we tell him?” ask Patrick.

“Maybe, in time I guess he’ll find out.” said Val.

In the kitchen Eclipse was looking at himself in a mirror, his eyes had become bright red and he had grow two pointy fangs. He brushed a hand across the bites marks he a receive a couple of mounts ago, his transformation was almost complete, he was really becoming a vampire. He had a strong thirst for blood last time he had drink some was when he bite himself to satisfy his hunger. That day he sworn he would never touch blood again even if by that it meant killing himself. Wherever he went people would tease him about the way he looks he didn’t want to hurt anyone or worst, kill someone. Especially the two men who were in the living room, he appreciates them, they didn’t laughed of how he looks, he wanted them no harm. He was starting to feel very weak from the hunger so he decide to save his energies for now. Eclipse walk back into the living room and laid down on the couch.

“Hey men you Ok?” ask Val referring to before.

“Yes I’m fine, the blood made me feel uneasy that’s all, don’t worry about it.” said Eclipse.

“Told you.” said Patrick to his friend.

“Sure. Hey let’s find something to do, maybe we could play cards!” said Val with enthusiasm.

“That’s a good idea, go find some cards.” said Patrick.

“YES!!!” exclaim Val dashing away.

“Wanna play?” ask Patrick.

“No.” said Eclipse, as his breathing soften Patrick realized that the black haired boy would sleep, they had just wake up maybe half an hour before. To him it was kind of strange to be so tiered, or maybe Eclipse hadn’t sleep well the night before because of the noise the raging wind made as it hit the side of the house.

“I FOUND SOME!!!!!!” shout Val with cards holding them proudly over his head for everyone to see what he had accomplish.

“Shhhh.” made Patrick pointing the sleeping Eclipse. “Let him sleep.” he warned.

“So what do you want to play?” ask Val.

“Any game, doesn’t matter.” said Patrick, both men played game till about 3 in the afternoon. The storm had died down.

“Looks like we’ll be able to leave this place.” said Val.

“Yes, we’ll leave tomorrow, they’d be no point in leaving right now. There just about one or two hours before dark.” said Patrick.

“I agree.” said Val. “Should we wake up Eclipse up?” he ask.

“Yes, I’ll do that.” said Patrick, he leaned over Eclipse. “Hey man Eclipse, time to wake up.” said Patrick shaking Eclipse by the shoulder. Eclipse open his eyes half way the were switching color from red to lavender.

“Yo man, there’s something wrong with your eyes.” point out Val.

“There fine.” hiss Eclipse showing his fangs dangerously. Patrick back away from him.

“You sure?” ask Patrick.

“Yes.” said Eclipse, he stood up shakily he felt light headed because of starvation. His leg collapse under himself, Patrick caught him around the waist.

“Here you feeling alright?” ask Patrick slight concern showed his deep voice.

“Yes, I’m just a bit light headed. Must be just a cold, I’ve bin out in the cold all day yesterday.” said Eclipse, Patrick helped him back on the couch.

“Well sleep then, I believe you’ll travel to the next town tomorrow, the storm his gone.” explained Val, Eclipse nodded weakly.

“There’s food in my bag if you two are hungry.” said Eclipse, Patrick crouch beside the bag and pulled out some biscuit and fruits. Eclipse could keep his eyes from Patrick graceful silhouette, he felt something inside as he first laid eyes on the brunette. He feeling he couldn’t quite recognize, he remembered a similar feeling, from a long time ago. Before his sister died, anyhow, he decided not to give these feeling more attention for they brought back memories he did not want to remember. They were gone and wouldn’t be coming back, NEVER!

“Hey!” said Val snapping his fingers in front of his attention.

“What is it?” ask Eclipse.

“Don’t know what you’re daydreaming about but you were really far away. Ya didn’t even hear me when I called out your name.” said Val.

“Sorry.” apologized Eclipse.

“Doesn’t matter, you hungry?” ask Val. Eclipse shook his head no.

“You didn’t eat at all this morning.” said Patrick

“I don’t really feel like eating.” lied Eclipse.

“Okay then go to sleep.” said Val, Eclipse nodded and drifted back to sleep.

“Do you think he’s kind of weird?” ask Val.

“He’s a vampire.” said Patrick.

“What!” exclaimed Val.

“Look, he has bite marks on his neck.” said Patrick, Val leaned over the couch silently and gasped as he saw the red marks.

“Your right, then that’s why he’s so weak. But why doesn’t he bite one of us.” ask Val.

“Probably because he’s a young vampire and doesn’t want to kill to feed himself.” said Patrick.

“Will...will he die?” ask Val.

“Yes of starvation, if he doesn’t drink blood.” said Patrick with a quite serious tone.

“We can’t let him die.”

“I won’t, I’ll let him drink from my blood.” said Patrick.

“Won’t that change you into a vampire?” ask Val.

“I don’t know. We’ll see to that tomorrow I’ll be off to bed.” said Patrick laying down on the floor with a blanket. Val did the same.

The next morning Patrick woke up because of the sun who shone too hard in his face, the weather was perfect. They would have no problems traveling today. The brunette sat on the edge of the couch beside the weak vampire, he pushed a black strand of hair out of his face. Eclipse’s skin had become deadly pale.

Patrick shook Eclipse out of his, who weakly opened his red eyes.

“Come Eclipse wake up.” said Patrick

“What’s wrong Patrick?” ask Eclipse.

“Bite me, you don’t see you’re killing yourself.” said Patrick, Eclipse was shocked, how could he know about his secret, never mind that. He could not just bite him, was he turned crazy over the night.

“Why do you care if I die?” said Eclipse bitterly.

“You saved me life the other night.” said the brunette.

“I won’t bite you, leave me to die.” said the vampire.

“I won’t?”

“What’s going here?” ask Val.

“Hold him Valery!” shouted Patrick, the werewolf obeyed immediately knowing exactly what his friend meant. Patrick took a knife cutting open one of his wrists. He purred his blood in his new friend’s mouth. Eclipse spilled the blood refusing to drink it. But the half tiger man forced the red fluid down the vampire’s throat. Witch made him feel completely revived.

Patrick sat on the floor panting, his demon genes helped him stay conscious, he immediately bandaged the wound witch he knew would be gone by the night.

“Are you feeling better?” ask Val, Eclipse nodded.

“I should have told you before.” said the vampire.

“No need for apologies.” said Val. “Me and Pat have our own little secrets. You see I’m a werewolf.”

“And I’m a tiger demon.” said Patrick, Eclipse put on a weak smile.

“So we’re still leaving today?” ask Val.

“Do you mind traveling to the next town with us?” ask Patrick, Eclipse shook his head.

“Tell us when you’re ready to leave.” said Val, Eclipse nodded. He brushed his hair and put his stuff back in his bag.

“I’m ready for leaving.” said Eclipse putting on his black cloth.

“Good.” said Patrick walking out of the house. The three males took about four hours of walk to get to the next town. They were very lucky then the weather was calm, they probably would have had a hard time crossing the mountain with the blizzard of yesterday. The three of them shared an hotel room it was a quite small room with two beds and a bathroom.

“There only two beds.” observed Val as they walk in the room.

“I don’t mind sharing a bed.” said Patrick “Do you Eclipse?” he ask, Eclipse shook his head.

“It’s settle then, you sleep with Eclipse!” said the werewolf cheerfully. Eclipse sat down on a bed and start to brush his hair.

“I’m going to go into town to get some food.” said Patrick.

“Wait for me Pat, I’m coming to.” said Val following Patrick out of the room.

Later on at about 9 o’clock Eclipse went to the bar, he sat at a table silently while drinking a beer. He was not alcoholic but he likes to drink sometimes. Val came and sat at the bar beside him.

“I did not expect to see you here.” said Val, he also asked a beer to the waitress. “We bought food at the market and we also got blood for you at the blood bank.” said Val. “You don’t talk a lot do you? Anyways... Hey, how old are you?” asked the werewolf, the black haired boy did seem young to be drinking.

“Fifteen.” answered Eclipse.

“You’re way too young to be drinking!” exclaimed Val.

“Did it ever hurt you?” asked the vampire.

“No.”

“Then don’t freak like that and let me do what I want.” said Eclipse then he swallowed the last of his beer and left some money on the table. He went back to the hotel.

When he got in the room he set his clothes on the bed and walked into the bathroom. He carefully wiped his face from the mostly all black makeup that masked his face from the world. Did he really love wearing makeup or was it just a mask, to hide himself from the world outside. To hide his pain. He felt so lonely inside, his parents had died as well as his big sister. He remembers that he really loved her, what was her name again, Covina was it? He decided to stop thinking about his family, it did nothing good, it only made him feel more sad. Eclipse started to shower, he needed to clean himself, he hated feeling dirty.

After his shower he dressed himself in a pair of black boxers and a loose black T-shirt. Then he went into the kitchenette and poured himself some blood into a cup, then he heated the blood in the microwave. He then sat at the table to drink the blood, the hot liquid felt nice down his throat.

“Hey there.” said Patrick walking in the kitchen. “What’s up?” asked the brunette.

“I was going to bed.” said Eclipse, Patrick nodded and went into the bathroom. A couple of minutes after Eclipse crawled under the warm blankets of his bed. He let his tense muscles relax. He shivered a bit, he was a bit cold but that didn’t last because a few minutes later a warm strong body laid itself beside his cold one. It felt quite good to have someone so close and it didn’t take long that his breathing had softened and he was resting peacefully.

Eclipse woke up during the night, he believes it’s the best time of the day to think. He sat himself beside the window, he looked at the sky for countless minutes, it was quite beautiful, there were so many stars and a big almost full moon. He loved to look at the sky, it helps him clear his mind. Both Patrick and Val were asleep, they looked so peaceful. His eyes set on Patrick's motionless body, there was something about that man made him feel good. He looked back up at the sky, was this feeling what they called love.

He didn't quite know since he's been on his own for so long that he almost forgot how to feel. But he does remember how it used to feel to have people around like his sister he loved very much, yet the feeling he has for Patrick are slightly different. At that point it confused him, he's never been in a relation before. Eclipse was pulled out of his thought as he felt a hand on his shoulder, he turned around and met with a pair of green eyes, he felt his cheeks grow hot.

"The sky beautiful isn't it?" ask Patrick, the vampire silently nodded. "Do you have trouble sleeping?"

"Not really, I just needed to think." said Eclipse looking away from the brunette's eyes.

"About what?" ask the tiger man.

"That's none of your business." answer Eclipse with a bitter tone, yet not angry since he's a very calm and reserved person. He lay back down on the bed. Patrick sighed and went in the kitchen to get a glass of milk, shortly after he joined Eclipse's side and allow himself to drift back to sleep. The black haired boy stared at his peaceful face, he wondered what he was dreaming of. It must have been something joyful since he purred in his sleep, just like a small kitten. The sound of the man's purring help him get back to a peaceful slumber.

The next morning Eclipse woke up early and while drinking a cup of blood he decided that he would leave the two men behind. Patrick was obviously strait and wouldn't want him around, besides, no one wanted him around. He quickly pick up his stuff and left the apartment.

A couple of hours later Val and Patrick woke up. They realize Eclipse's stuff was gone.

"He's gone." said Patrick.

"He must have gone to the next town, he's loner, did you expected him to stay with us?" ask Val.

"Not really." answered Patrick

"Who knows, maybe we'll meet again someday." said Val.

"You're right, I just wonder what pushed him to leave so soon." said the brunette starting to make breakfast...

That's it for first chapter, there will be a next one. Send comment, I want to know what you think about this.

2 - Come in

This chapter takes place two years after the first one, thanks a lot to Kaze and StikeClaw for there wonderful comments, I really appreciate it makes me want to write more. Thank you, hereâ€™s the second chap.

In these two years, Eclipse closed himself off from the world. Avoiding almost every contact with the world of the living...

Two men walked in the noisy bar and sat down at the table then ordered a beer.

â€œItâ€™s bin a while since weâ€™ve last hang out in this bar, eh Val?â€ ask the taller man, Patrick. He had change quite a bit in two year, he had grown a bit, his emerald green eyes had become more catlike and his cinnamon brown hair were about three inch longer.

â€œYeah I know, two years is it?â€ ask Val, Patrick nodded. The werewolf had not change that much, only that his hair were now shorter, shoulder length, and he had grown slightly more muscular.

â€œRemember that guy Eclipse?â€ ask Patrick.

â€œYeah I do, we could have become great friends if he would have let us.â€ said Val. â€œIâ€™ve got us a room in the same hotel as last time.â€ â€œCool.â€ said Patrick then the waitress gave them there beer and left. Both mem drank while having a friendly chit-chat.

At the other end of the bar a mysterious person was drinking a beer, it must of bin while that heâ€™s there since thereâ€™s several empty glasses. The person was dress with a long black cloth, it was impossible to see his face. After an hour or so, the person left the bar. He slowly made his way thought the cold lonely street to the hotel where he stayed. When he entered the room he didnâ€™t bother to turn on the lights, he went in the small and he put a large mug into the micro wave setting it for two minutes. Afterward he took the steamy hot mug and sat at the table to drink itâ€™s liquid. The room was so silent the he could hear the sound of his own heartbeat. But the calm atmosphere was interrupted as the brunette and the redhead walked in the room noisily.

â€œYo man thereâ€™s someone here.â€ said Patrick.

â€œYeah I know, didnâ€™t I tell you weâ€™d have to share a room. There were no room left and if we really wanted to sleep here weâ€™d have to share. I hoped you wouldnâ€™t mind.â€ explain Val.

â€œI donâ€™t, it just surprised me, thatâ€™s all.â€ said Patrick, he went to sit at the table beside the stranger.

“Hey there my name is Pat.” said the tiger man holding out his hand. The stranger pulled off his cloth, his midnight black hair felt in place along his back.

“Eclipse!” exclaimed Patrick while gazing in the other man’s lifeless lavender eyes. He didn’t say a thing and went to sit on the bed and start to brush his hair.

“Hey man, it’s been a while!” said Val happily sitting beside the vampire. Eclipse looked at him then start to brush his hair again.

“What’s the matter?” ask Patrick, he knew the black haired man didn’t talk much but now he didn’t talk at all. Eclipse push his old brush aside then curled up in a tight ball on the bed, he drift into a dreamless sleep shortly after. Patrick covered him with some blanket.

“He seems so...”

“Lifeless?” offered Val, the brunette nodded.. “What do you think might have happened for him to be so out of it. He looks as if he had lost his soul.” ask the redhead.

“I have no idea.” said Patrick sighing.

“Poor thing.” said Val with an int of sadness in his voice.

“Let’s go to bed, we won’t figure out anything tonight.” said Patrick, Val nodded then went to change into his sleeping cloths. The tiger man laid down beside the sleeping corpse of Eclipse. He wrapped his arms around to smaller body keeping it warm.

The next morning Patrick was awoken by the sound of silent sob, he sat up to locate the source of the sound. His green eyes fell upon his on the vampire, it alerted him to see him so broken. He cupped the black haired man in his arms, Eclipse buried his face in the crook of his neck. Patrick could feel the cold tears on his skin.

“What wrong Eclipse?” ask Patrick with a concerned voice. Val sat up in his bed, he was slightly confuse.

“What’s going on?” ask the redhead, Patrick turned his head to look at him. His worried gaze was enough to tell Val something was terribly wrong. He dressed himself hurriedly and exited the room, he had known Patrick for so long that he could tell he wanted him away.

Patrick rocked the crying man gently, he decide not to question him further in fear the it would make the matter worst.

“Eclipse, there is something wrong.” said Patrick.

“I...I’m fine.”

Patrick hugged him tight, rubbing his back softly.

“You are not fine, I just wish you could trust me enough to tell me what’s wrong.” said Patrick, Eclipse didn’t say anything. He did not want to be a burden to the brunette. Nobody should care about him, he was alone in this life. Patrick embraced the sobbing vampire close to his body till he cried himself to sleep.

Later in the day Val came back to the room with a pizza, Patrick was very silent. He was sitting on the bed running his hand affectionately in the ebony hair of the slumbering man.

“Are you eating tonight?” ask Val setting the pizza on the table, the tiger man nod and covered the dormant frame with blankets. Then he went to sit at the table with the werewolf.

“Do you know what is bothering him?” ask the redhead.

“He did not tell me.” said Patrick morosely. They eat the rest of their meal in silence. They went to bed right after supper even if it was still early. Patrick slept beside Eclipse as well as Val, both of them didn’t want to see the vampire in pain.

Later in the night Eclipse awoke, it was pitch black outside. He sat up in bed and took a look around the room, his eyes fell upon his black gun that was lying on the carpet. He gazed at the men on his sides, both of them were in a peaceful sleep, he laid a kiss on the brunettes forehead. Then he stood up from the bed and made his way to the gun, he crouched down and picked up the pistol. Afterward he locked himself up in the bathroom.

He looked at himself in the mirror he couldn’t remember when he last did. His hair had grown quite longer and the make up that once disguised his face was long gone. What shocked him the most was the dullness of his eyes. He could not tell who was the person looking back at him, who was that stranger? Why was he here? What had his life become? This was not the boy who had lost his family, or was he? He could not tell who he was anymore. He was so pathetic, he had even dropped as low as to love another man. A great person unlike himself, a person he shall never be with. Patrick deserved someone much better than him.

Eclipse let crystalline tears run along his pale cheeks, he pressed his gun against his temples and he started to put pressure on the trigger...

Patrick was awakened by the soft pressure on his forehead and he cracked one eye open, he saw Eclipse walk in the direction of the bathroom he also saw him pick up an object before entering. He could not see what the object was, he was quite concerned. The vampire was sad and broken, who knows what he could be doing with that mysterious article. He stood up and walked with a catlike motion to the door and pressed his ear against it. For a few minutes he heard no sound, then he heard the soft sound that was made as the black haired man did as he pressed the trigger. Having used a gun before he could identify the sound.

He burst into the room and slapped Eclipse and made him drop the revolver, it hit the floor with a noisy thud. Eclipse collapsed to his knees, he had almost killed himself. Patrick knelt beside him and embraced him into a hug.

“Why?”

“I don’t want you to die. His your life that bad?” ask Patrick.

“Do you think it’s that bad?” repeat Eclipse with an int of hysteria in his tone. “My family died when I was ten, as well as the only person who ever really cared about me. Don’t try to tell me you care, you’re just like everybody else, you don’t want to have the guilt on my death on your conscience. You know what? I’m also a vampire, I have to hurt people to feed myself. And, to help my case I’m in love with a man, I’m in love with you! PLUS I DON’T FRACKIN’ KNOW WHO I’VE BECOME!!!” shouted Eclipse leaving the hotel angrily.

Patrick looked at the ground, he had no idea of the way the vampire could have felt. Val stood in the doorway, a confuse look on his face.

“He’s in love with me...” was the only thing the brunette manage the say.

“Do you return the feeling. Is that the reason you care so much about his well being? Is this the reason he’s the only thing you’ve bin able to think about in the last two year.” ask Val, probably the first time he’s bin so mature in his life.

“I’m in love with him.” conclude Patrick. “I have to find him before he tries to kill himself!” he exclaim. He stood up and hugged Val.

“Thank you Val, you’re the best!” said Patrick before running off. He ran throughout the empty streets, he let his soul lead him. Eclipse could be anywhere by now! His feet lead him to the small lake a bit outside the city. The Vampire was kneeling in the lake, Patrick laid a hand on the black haired man’s shoulder.

“Eclipse...”

“Please, leave me alone.” said Eclipse his voice held so much sorrow. Patrick cupped his face with his hand. Eclipse set his hand around the brunette’s wrist, he did not understand why he was so determined to keep him from dying. Could he really care? Patrick moved his head closer to the vampire’s till he could feel the other breath on his face. He then sild there lips with a kiss. Eclipse toke a few moments to react, he was kissing him, when he was sure he was not dreaming, that this was the reality, he began to kiss back.

After a several minutes there lips parted for air, they still stayed close enough to feel the others breathing. They stared into each other eyes for what seemed like forever. Eclipse felt that maybe, just maybe, he life was taking a new beginning.

“I do not want you to die.” said Patrick. “I’m also in love with you, I don’t think you a bad person.”

“Are you sure?” ask Eclipse.

“Yes I am, why wouldn’t I be. I couldn’t stop thinking of you in those two year.” said the brunette, Eclipse could tell there was a lot of emotion in voice. He hugged him tight, the tiger man returned to hug. They kissed again, this time Patrick slid his thong in the other man’s mouth. For the first time Patrick could see a small sweet smile on Eclipse’s lips. He then lean down.

“You are Eclipse, you are the boy who lost his family at a young age but manage to get trough that. You’re also a vampire. But most of all you are my lover.” whispered Patrick in Eclipse’s ear.

“Thank you.” said Eclipse.

“Eh?”

“I know you can bring me back to life. It feels like I’ve lost my soul and my identity.” said the vampire sadly.

“I can help you build it back.” said Patrick.

“Will you?”

“Yes because I’m in love with you.” explain the brunette, Eclipse smiled and hugged him.

“Will come and take a walk with me?” ask Eclipse blushing a bit. Patrick nodded.

They took a walk around the city, it was beautiful in the night, there was million of shiny lights. Were there hotel room was it was in a darker part of the city, where there was not many lights and persons around. The snow was falling silently and Patrick held Eclipse close to him to share his body heat since the younger man only toke the time to put on a pair of pants and a sweater before leaving the hotel. Eclipse really enjoyed the warmed of his newfound lover. He always, even as a child, adored to be touched. He loved the warmed of other persons on his skin. Patrick was so glad he could make the black haired man feel good inside.

The lovers stop at a ice cream pallor that was opened late. Patrick bought chocolate ice cream for both of them, they sat down by a large fountain. It was froze but thanks to the lights around it was very beatiful.

“Do you like it?” ask Patrick, Eclipse look like he was really appreciating his ice cream, he looked just like a kid who just tasted candy for the first time.

“Yes I do, I didn’t eat ice cream since I was just a kid.” said Eclipse, there was something in his eyes that Patrick had never see, something he never though he’d see. There was joy his eyes. Patrick pulled Eclipse on his laps.

“I love you.” he whispered in the vampire’s ear.

“I love you too” reply Eclipse.

After they’re ice cream they walk back home, as they arrived Val was asleep on the couch. Eclipse went to put on his sleeping cloths while Patrick took Val and brought him on his bed and covered him with the blankets. Then Eclipse felt asleep in his partner's arms. When they were both in a peaceful slumber, Val cracked an eye open and smile to himself, he knew this would have a good end...

Don't worry this story does NOT end here, there's more to come! I should be posting the next chapter around Monday.

3 - A beginning for us.

The next morning Eclipse got was awoken when the sun hit his face, he was lying curled up in the embrace of his lover. He pushed a lock of brown hair from Patrick's face and laid a kiss on his forehead.. He then made his way to the bathroom he started the shower, he then stepped inside and let the warm water run along his back. He looked back on the last days event, he had found someone the really loved him for who he was, there was also Val who was a wonderful friend. It was about time for him to let go of the past, his family was dead and nothing he'll ever do will ever bring them. He still had great memories of them, and the happy memories he as will help him go through his new life.

Eclipse was suddenly pulled out of his thoughts as he felt a pair of arms circle around his waist, he was at first in a state of panic.

"Good morning." said the half asleep voice of Patrick, Eclipse let out a sigh of relieve. He turned around and smiled up at him.

"Hi." said Eclipse, it was very quiet, probably from the lack of use.

"Did I scare you?" ask Patrick.

"A bit" answered Eclipse, Patrick kiss the vampire on the neck and all the way down to his abdomen. Eclipse shivered with each kiss.

"Is there something wrong?" ask the brunette, the younger man was a bit tense.

"I'm sorry, no one's ever touched me like that." said Eclipse while blushing, Patrick kissed him on top of his head.

"That Okay." said Patrick, he then toke the bottle of shampoo and started the wash his lover's long ebony hair. "You have such beautiful hairs."

"Thank you." said Eclipse, Pat was really his sunlight, it had mist for a while now, but the light did came back. It did not really matter what happened tomorrow, for now today was fine. After there shower both of them got dress and went in the kitchen, the delicate sent of breakfast filled the air of the room. Val knew a thing or two in cooking, he had prepared eggs and bacon to filled they're empty stomachs.

"HEY GUYS!!!!!!!" exclaimed Val as he run over his friend, he was about to hugged them but fell over them and all three felt to the floor. Eclipse bursted into laughter. Patrick smiled as he eared the younger man laughed, Eclipse had not laughed in such a long time. Val stood up and helped both of his friends to they're feet.

“You know, you’re way cuter when you smile.” said Val with an arm around to vampire’s neck, Patrick glared at Val. “Don’t worry man, he’s yours” said Val while slapping the brunette on the back in a friendly manner. The three males sat down around the small table. They were having a friendly chit-chat.

Eclipse wanted to get an apartment and settle down, he was tired of traveling. And Patrick offered to stay with him and of course Eclipse had no objection. After breakfast the trio went shopping, Eclipse needed to buy new cloths, he bought himself two long sleeve shirt, a black and a apple green one, he also bought a pair of blue jeans. Val found himself a red sweater, he loved it a lot since it was the same color that his hair was.

They also bought some shampoo and the food needed for the week. After that they found an apartment it was quite easy actually since the first place they went a guy had just move out that morning. Patrick and Eclipse moved they’re stuff there immediately, Val was also staying with them but only for a short period.

In the late afternoon Patrick and Eclipse laid in they’re new bed, not sleeping, just enjoying the other’s company. Eclipse snuggled up closer to the brunette. Patrick ran his fingers through his jet black hair.

“What do you want to do tonight?” ask Patrick.

“A friend of mine owns a bar, he’d be happy to see us.” offered Eclipse

“That could be fun.” said the brunette.

“The guy’s a vampire, he’s the one who bit me. I was not really intensional. I had pick up a fight with another guy, he had laughed at me. I believe it was the only way he found to calm me. It’s a good thing because I would of kill the other guy for sure.” explained Eclipse.

“Was the guy alright afterward?” asked Pat.

“Yeah, just a couple of bruise.” said the vampire, he stood up and went to his back, he pulled out a pair of thigh black jeans and a white tank top. He put the cloths on, the top was short enough to show his belly bouton. Patrick walked up to him and kissed him on the lips.

“You’re so sexy in those cloths.” said Patrick, Eclipse blushed a bit and kiss his lover.

“I love you.” said Eclipse, Pat give him a small kiss on the nose.

“I’m gonna go change cloth too.” said Patrick, when he was done dressing the vampire had his make up on, black eye shadow and lipstick, he had put on the radio. The song “Every breath you take” of the Police was playing. The brunette brought the ebony haired man closer to himself and they began to slow dance. The dance ended with a long kiss, they’re thongs battled for dominance, Eclipse let Patrick win and explore his warm mouth. After they parted they were both panting.

“You make my life so much better.” said Eclipse smiling.

“I’m glad I can.” said Patrick and they left for the bar, Val came too. At the bar Eclipse got behind a man that had short jet black hair, he tapped on his shoulder.

“Hey there Vincent.” said Eclipse, the man turned to face him.

“Hi Eclipse!” said Vincent with a large smile. “I haven’t seen you in a while!”

“I know.” said Eclipse with a smile, Vincent was quite surprised to see the boy so happy, last time he had been so depressed.

“What makes you so happy?” asked the older vampire.

“I’d like you to meet my boyfriend Pat.” said Eclipse. “They’re also my friend Val but I don’t know where he went.” said Eclipse looking around, he spotted Val flirting with a woman, he smiled to himself.

“Hi!” said Patrick, he and Vincent shook hands, then Vince hugged Eclipse.

“That’s wonderful Eclipse, I thought I’d never see you happy.”

“Yo Vince, who you’re talking to?” asked a man who seemed to be Vincent’s friend, he had long knee length white and bloody red eyes.

“Eclipse, you remember Ryan right? He had painted a picture of you.” explained the older vampire, Eclipse nodded, Ryan was a hard person to forget he such a kind man.

“Hello Ryan.” said Eclipse, Patrick nodded to him.

“Hello.” said Ryan making a peace sign and a large goofy grin. “Can I get you something?” asked Ryan taking his note pad.

“A beer.” said Patrick.

“Me too.” said Eclipse, Ryan wrote something down and went to fetch the beers at the back of the bar. Patrick and Vince had a friendly conversation while drinking, Val joined them after some time as well as Ryan. They talk of everything and anything. Later a woman came up to Vincent she was about twenty, she had black hair with silver streaks tied in a pony tail and her eyes were the very same shade of lavender as Eclipse.

“Hey Vince I’m heading home Ok?” she asked.

“That’s fine, but I’d like you to meet someone.” said Vincent and her gaze met with Eclipse’s, it seemed as everyone in the place had stopped talking.

“What’s your name?” she asked with her calm and gentle voice.

“But what his your real name?” she asked again this time she sounded very unsure. He thought about her question, did he know the answer she was looking for?

“I apologies, but I do not remember it.” said Eclipse, did that woman knew thing about him the ever himself did not know? She looked so familiar, he just couldn’t place her.

“Can you remember my name?” she asked, and he looked at her, she was as unsure as he was. He did know her.

“..I can’t remember.” he said.

“My name his Covina.”
