1 - "Love?" (A poem)

Love?

I stole my mother's life at birth

And as Kazekage's son

I was overprotected, spoiled, and left alone

I thought that was love

Until that accident happened

These past six years.

My father tried to assassinate me several times

So why do I exist and live?

I asked myself that question

But I could not find an answer

But I need those reasons while I am still alive

Or it would be the same as being dead

And this is what I concluded:

I exist to kill everyone other than me

I fight only for myself

And I love only myself

As long as there are people to kill in this world

To make me experience the joy of living

My existence will remain.
