Chapter 1 - her

1 - her

when you catch a girl glancing at you she wants you to look back and smile. when a girl bumps your arm while your walking she wants you to hold her hand. when she wants a hug she will just stand there. when you break a girls heart she still feels it even when you see each other 10 years later when a girl is quiet millions of things are running through her mind. when a girl is not fighting she is thinking deeply. when a girl looks at you with eyes full of questions she is wondering how long you are going to be around. when a girl answers im fine after a few minutes she is not at all fine. when a girl stares at you with eyes full of tears shes wondering why you are playing games. when a girl lays her head on your chest she is wishing you would be hers forever. when a girl says she cant live without you she has already made up her mind that she cant live without you. when a girl is mean to you after a break up she just wants you back.
