1 - the bad news

Mina jumped out off bed. Sally had been gone for a long time, and she got to spend a lot of time with sonic, but today would be the best.

Mina: "SONIC!"

Amy: "Hey... where's Sonic?"

Mina: "Wait, What are you doing here?"

Mina looked around. Sonic wanted to meet her here... but she didn't know Amy would be here too! She thought she and sonic would be alone... but huh?

Sonic ran up to the eager girls, both expecting a date with sonic... both expecting the wrong thing.

Sonic: "I—I have something to tell you."

Mina: "What?"(That you want to marry me, I hope)

Sonic: " I've missed Sally, my true love of my life. For years I've tried to replace her with the both off you. I'm sorry but you—you don't replace the love for her in my heart. I'm sorry. I shouldn't have used you like this. You'll never replace what I've lost... but we can still be friends, right?"

Although Amy was crying harder than ever, Mina fought back her tears. He had tried to be nice, right? He said they could still be friends right? She knew what it was like. It was kind of like losing a toy. Even if you get new ones, they can never replace the one you lost. Mina looked at Sonic, realizing he wanted to cry, too. They would just be a crying mess.

Sonic: "I didn't want this to happen. I thought you'd make me happy. You just made me realize I can't ever replace what I have lost."

Mina suddenly felt a rush of anger... Sonic had used her! She now would also feel a love lost. She looked at the lake nearby. She could jump in and never come out. That'd show that sonic how angry and mad she was at him for him using h---- WAIT! Poor guy... he was only truing to make Mina and Amy happy! He wanted us as well as him happy, and truing to drown would make him feel worse! No. She would hide all sadness.

Mina: "I-I u-understand."

Mina ran off, before she could even start to cry

Her wonderful day was not wonderful. She didn't know what to do now. What could she do? She cried her eyes out, and realized Sonic didn't want her like this. She didn't want to look like this either. So she looked on the bright side and started to sing. She sang until she had walked down to the path where she and Sonic used to meet and stopped to catch her breath. She Sand and skipped along the path, so happy in her own little song world she didn't care who herd. So happy she didn't see Sonic look at her and think about what he had said, she was too happy to notice Amy crying to herself, but she turned to catch her breath, and was returned to the horrible world, of fire of death, of pain, or broken hearts. But she would continue to look on the good side...

Mina: (whispering) "I can't let sonic down. He wants me too be happy... maybe I can cheer him up?"

2 - all for happiness

Mina Ran to Sonic. She felt convertible talking with him, even if he was the one who had broken her heart only a few hours before.

Mina: "So, how was your day?"

Sonic: "I feel horrible. You're so happy! How? Why? Amy can't do anything but cry!"

Mina: "I learned to fight the trouble. When you seemingly died, I was sad, but I didn't realize until later on that all you wanted was for us to be happy. That's why you sacrificed yourself and why you destroyed the dial. It was your idea to help us, not make us sad. That's how I learned to move ahead from my troubles. Sally got herself so sick though, not long after you came here she died from the pain she had, starving herself wanting death. I never want to do that. I want to live my life as good as it can be!"

Sonic: "wow. I never thought of it that way. Like I said, we can still be friends, and we can still hang out... just minus the romance."

Mina: "I'm okay with that."

Mina felt happy all over again. She remember all of the love she felt when he wanted her love after Sally had died. She felt better. She wasn't replacing the long lost girl. She was becoming a new friend. She knew that was better. Now she wasn't uneasy about talking. She had a new best friend, and she felt wonderful. She sang her way back to her home, taking the long way so she could sing the whole song. The birds were singing in trees. The water shined. Everone danced around in the streets when they heard her sing. Nothing better than spreading the joy she felt on others. Everyone was happy. She knew how good they felt because she felt even better.

Suddenly a guy in fancy clothes came up to her.

Guy: "hello. I'm with a band and we lost our lead singer. You could join us, right? Your voice is beatiful. The world should hear you amazing singing!"

Mina reconized the man right away. His name was john and he played guitar for the orange 'n blue mongooses. She realized she could make the world feel as happy she did with her voice! She wasn't hesitaint to answer.

Mina: "Sure! I know how the people love your music! I'm sure with your instraments, you could make us sound great!"

John: "That's AWSOME! We'll hold tryouts later. The band will judge to see if you could be our new lead singer! Thanks kid!"

When he started to turn and walk away, Mina stopped him.

Mina: "Just one thing. Don't call me "kid" okay."

John: "SURE! Anything for you, girl. Your music is GOLD!"

Mina knew she would make everyone happy. So she skipped the rest of the way home, singing loudly. Everyone loved The music at home, and now, so would the world.

3 - Mina the singer

Mina jumped out of bed. That night she had made a song. She decided she would perform for Sonic that day. She'd told him to meet her a place where they could be alone. She wasn't ready to sing her song for a crowd yet.

Mina: "Sonic? Sonic where are you?"

Sonic ran up to her. He was eager to hear her sing.

Sonic: "So you're now the lead singer of a band?"

Mina: "Not officially. The tryout is tomorrow, as John told me this morning."

Sonic: "Well, let's hear it!"

Mina took a deep breath. She'd never sung her own song before. She wrote it on what had happened.

Mina: okay! Here goes nothing...

I've been let down before, but now I know that sadness is wrong. My true love has passed on, so now I'm moving on!

I loved one guy before, but I found I had no place in his heart. I've always heard you win some lose some, so now I'll go on strong!

I can't let anyone get in the way of all my dreams!

There's no holding back now, because as hard as things may seem,

You have to move on, hold on, things won't always be bad! You have to look on the bright side, though things may make you mad. Because when you let your dreams get crushed, you'll lose all that you loved, but if you don't ever let them go, you will have tons more fun! So, just move on!

You can't let things get you down, because somebody always wants you to be happy

Some one is on your side, so instead of talking bad and getting nappy,

Enjoy your life for whatever trouble there may be,

You have never been everything that you'll ever see,

So remember that when bad things happen forget what you have seen, just

You have to move on, hold on, things won't always be bad! You have to look on the bright side, though things may make you mad. Because when you let your dreams get crushed, you'll lose all that you loved, but if you don't ever let them go, you will have tons more fun! So, just move on!

C'mon,

You have to move on, hold on, things won't always be bad! You have to look on the bright side, though things may make you mad. Because when you let your dreams get crushed, you'll lose all that you loved, but if you don't ever let them go, you will have tons more fun! So, just move on!

MOVE ON!"

Mina: "that's the end."

Sonic was amazed. She had written, sonic realized how she had felt when sonic died and when sonic told her she could never replace Sally in his heart. He knew it was true, but then he also knew no one could replace Sally ever. That was what the song made him realize. He, too, had to move on. Sally was gone and that was what he couldn't change. He knew what to do.

Sonic: "Mina, that song... was beautiful. I love it. It's inspired me. You know how I said you could never replace Sally in my heart?"

Mina: "Yes."

Mina wondered if the song had reminded him of Sally, and he never wanted to see her again.

Sonic: "Well, I thought about it and... no one can ever replace Sally. I know that now... and I realized how lucky I am to know you, you still supported me even when I upset you. Thought no one can replace her, you... you... you... oh Mina, you have helped and loved me. And I... I figured out I was in love with you the whole time, and didn't realize until you were gone."

Mina: People always say you don't know what you've got 'till it's gone.

Sonic: Mina... I think I love you.

Mina: I'm okay with that.

Sonic put his arm around Mina. They went on a walk, Mina singing and Sonic playing his guitar.

Everyone listened and danced along. John and the band were very impressed. They even asked Sonic to join, but he said he had too much work, saving the world. Mina kissed him good-bye for now as she went with the band to practice. Mina wasn't what you call a "drooling fangirl of sonic."

She was happier than she'd ever been. Sonic really loved her and nothing could change that... but is this the end... or only the beginning?
