1 - Never has death been so lovely

The death of one, brings another

Disclaimer: I don't own Teen Titans, if I did, I would be bloody rich and wouldn't be wasting my time on this.

Wonder, wonder in your eyes,

We could never compromise.

Nothing will ever be the same,

For I cannot call your name.

Nothing now will matter more,

I cannot find a cure.

To this never ending pain,

I ignored all your love in vain.

You have left me far behind,

Only one thing for me to find.

Why you went away from me,

You went o so soundly.

I loved you deeper than the sea,

I could stare at you for eternity.
Nothing will replace this pain,
With you gone there's nothing more to gain.

You were always there for me,
You answered my every plea.
Though I never answered you,
I acted as I hadn't a clue.

"I love her deeply this is true,
And I hope that she loves me too."
I read this in your diary one day,
On the day you past away.

Nothing hurts me more,
To know that your love was pure.
I never meant to hurt you so,
This pain in my heart continues to grow.

I am trying my best,
To put all this shoot to rest.
With all the wisdom in my head,
I never knew that you loved me until you were dead.

I gaze upon the dreadful knife,
The very knife that took your life.
Only if you ever knew,
That I also loved you too.

I raise that dagger high,
With you gone I just want to die.
It comes down with a blazing speed,
It pierces my heart, then I begin to bleed.

The hot crimson liquid oozing from my breast,
I remove the dagger from my chest.
Then the doors open, my eyes are getting dim,
I know that my time is getting thin.

A red headed girl rushes toward me,
And the boys rush to freely.
She yells my name but I cant hear,
Starfire's eyes grow wide in fear.

The two boys rush to my aid,
But my vision begins to fade.

This is it, I know it now,

I know I am going to die somehow.

My heartbeat slows, my breath is short.

I watch them frantically retort (WTF?!?!)

My eyes are full of fear,

What the hell have I done here?

I last a little longer,

My life becomes very somber.

I shed a tear,

And I whispered in the girl's ear.

To what I said she began to fret,

That was my only regret.

I had great friends but now their gone,

All until their time of dawn.

I will separate from them this is true,

But this is what I wanted to do.

Until they die they will fight,

And in heaven we will reunite.

The Teen Titans will fight with the power of 157

Until we will reunite in heaven

But till then ill be with you,

Just as I wanted to.

I walked along this cloudy place,

Until I saw your smiling face.

We are reunited once again and will roam heaven together in peace,

We, the Raven and the Beast.
