1 - Intro and Characters

This is a little project I'm gonna be workin on. I know it's been done before but I'm not putting on ANY restrictions! The intro after this is from calypso's pov. Also, I don't own twisted metal, nor do I own the various characters.

Hello, my dear viewer, and welcome to Twisted Metal:Oblivion! I am your host, Calypso. As you all surely know by now this year's twisted metal contest is slowly approaching, and I am sorry for any past damages there may have been. I have decided that this year will be a tournament like no other! I will be using the entire universe as this year's battlegrounds! So you can expect more than just your average fire missile or remote bomb. I'm sure all the contestants know their prize, 1 wish, anything they desire, will be granted by me. Now, let me start by introducing our contestants and their vehicles!

(no longer Calypso's pov)

EXAMPLE

Vehicle: (Special Attack)

Driver:

(description of special attack)

Other info will be in their respective prologues, middles, and epilogues.

Vehicle: Outlaw (Devil Bringer)

Driver: Nero

(A large, demonic blue claw reaches out of the front of the car, and if it connects, it holds the enemy in place and crushes it in its grip. After 3 clenches, it releases the enemy. If it does not connect, however, it is pulled back and the special is wasted.)

Vehicle: Crimson Fury (Burning Rush)

Driver: Blaze The Cat

(The car engulfs itself in flames as it rams in a fire spiral. If it rams anybody, their car will set on fire and they will take heavy damage. note: the user will not take any damage from being set on fire.)

Vehicle: Darkside (Rock Salt Barrage)

Driver(s): Dean and Sam Winchester

(Rock salt fires out of the grill and homes in on enemies, however the rock salt is strapped with explosives so they detonate on impact.)

Vehicle: Mr. Grimm (Bankai Mask)

Driver: Ichigo Kurosaki

(The Bankai Mask grows big and flies off Ichigo's face at high speeds in a straight line, and does strong damage.)

Vehicle: Hammerhead (Crusher)

Driver(s): Alphonse and Edward Elric

(The spiked wheels of the monster truck race forward and towards the nearest enemy. If they connect, they will run the spikes on the car for a little while and get off soon after.)

Vehicle: Spectre (Ghost Missles)

Driver: Spike Spiegel

(Spike says "Bang" and fires 2 ghost missles that come outwards from his car and chase enemy cars, going through the ground and any walls in their way to reach their target.)

Vehicle: Thumper (Dragon of the Darkness Flame)

Driver: Hiei

[2 ways to use special, 1 is charged, 2 is uncharged]

(1.Thumper releases a black dragon made of fire, and it homes in on any enemy, however it disappears after a short time. 2. The dragon head breathes black flames in front of the car, dealing heavy fire damage.)

Vehicle: Sweet Tooth (Napalm Clown Head)

Driver(s): Needles Kane/Marcus Kane

(The head on Sweet Tooth is fired off, homes in on the enemy, and catches the enemy on fire when hit.)

Vehicle: Roadkill (Boomerang)

Driver(s): Marcus Kane/Needles Kane

(Roadkill fires a boomerang that fires straight out, but you can press the fire button to return it to you for the ammo back if it has not hit anything yet.)

Vehicle: Warthog (Patriot Missile)

Driver: Barret Wallace

(Warthog fires a large missile that is coated with red, white, and blue firecrackers. It homes onto an enemy and cause a large, colorful explosion.)

Vehicle: Twister (Sonic Boom)

Driver: Sonic The Hedgehog

(Twister spins at incredible speeds, creating a blue tornado that sucks in nearby cars and flings them around a bit.)

Vehicle: Shadow (Soul Shadow)

Driver: Light Yagami

(Shadow fires a small shadow, with a demonic shape, that flies in a straight line along the ground, and can be remote detonated at any time.)

Vehicle: Minion (Hellfire)

Driver: Minion

(Minion's flamethrower burst out flames in all directions around the vehicle, but homes in on nearby cars.)

Well that's all the cars, whoever you're rooting for, hope they win! next up are the battlegrounds and weapons!

2 - This Year's Battlegrounds and Weapons!

Here are the battlegrounds and weapons for the tournament, hope you all enjoy.

1st Battleground

Las Vegas (Large Stage)

(Our drivers will be racing around the twists and turns of Las Vegas, the city of entertainment, and the perfect place to begin wreaking havoc! This features all of the buildings as destructible items, that once destroyed reveal an underground passageway, each leading to a separate array of weapons.)

2nd Battleground

Green Hill Zone (Medium Stage)

(Oh, what a wonderful lush area this is, filled with waterfalls and green grass...too bad all that has to change. Here in Green Hill Zone there are many straight paths, and there aren't many things to hide behind. Either get some weapons and start hunting, or become food for the mechanical beasts that roam the island.)

3rd Battleground

Mallet Castle (Small Stage)

(Here in the immense Mallet Castle there are traps, tight corners, and no way out. We've had to make some "Adjustments" but now the castle is perfect as a battleground. The rooms are all accessible, so feel free to explore for health pick-ups. Last driver standing moves on to the next round.)

4th Battleground

Trashed Stadium (Small Stage)

(The winner of past Twisted Metal contests has come as a special guest star, and he's just as devoted to his goal as ever. Meet DARK SLAMM! After becoming a baby many years ago due to a *cough* "accidental" wish, he decided to longer use any old front loader, but instead stole Dark Tooth from me on the grounds that I let him destroy any new contestants. He has upgraded the chomping teeth and has changed the color to meet his preferences. Get ready, because that big car is hungry for new contestants!)

Soul Society (Medium)

(Not even soul reapers can stop this year's twisted metal! The soul society has many small buildings to hide behind, and the large tower in the center can be accessed and destroyed with a remote bomb, allowing you to access the tops of the gates! Be careful though, one false move and your car goes off the deep end!

6th Battleground

Awesometon (Large)

(I have agreed to let this be a battlegrounds by a majority vote that some people just want to destroy for no reason. I guess hometowns can be just as annoying as large cities. You'll want to watch out for the kobolds though, they fire large boulders at any one who comes near their castle.)

7th Battleground

Bebop Spaceship (Medium)

(After so many years of neglect, the spaceship Bebop has suffered many damages, but it doesn't matter now, because this year's contest will only make it worse! If any driver should fall out of one of the air locks, they're going to have to say hello to the cold depths of space!)

8th Battleground

Calypso's Garage (Small-Medium)

(Now that you have reached the last battleground, I have decided to make your final opponent the most dangerous one of all. You'll all be cowering in fear when you find out that your opponent is none other than ME! I have brought a new Warhawk, since our last driver is "incapacitated", and I will be bringing in some old front loaders to help me in destroying you. If you win, I will parachute out of Warhawk, and personally congratulate you, that is IF you win.)

Weapons for This Years Tournament are...

-Fire Missile (Common)

Your average missile, great for taking down enemies one missile at a time.

-Homing Missile (Common)

A missile with high homing capabilities, great for hunting those enemies trying to escape.

-Ricochet Bomb (Common)

This bomb will hit a wall and begin to home in on other enemies slightly, bouncing off the wall will add more damage once hitting an enemy.

-Machine Gun Upgrade (Uncommon)

This upgrade will add damage to your machine gun shots.

-Remote Bomb (Uncommon)

This bomb can be placed behind you and remote detonated at any time after.

-Spring (Uncommon)

Once placed behind you, any car driving over this will launch high into the air, and they will be out of your reach. You can also use this to get to high places.

-Health Pickups (Uncommon)

There are two varieties of health pickups, small and large. Small health gives 30% health back, while large gives you full health.

-Special Pickup (Rare)

This pickup adds 2 specials to your already regenerating count. There is only one in each stage except boss battles. Try and find them all!

-----

That's all for all the basic stuff. I like talking like Calypso, it sure is fun! Next up is the first character prologue.

3 - Mr.Grimm - Prologue

Here's Mr. Grimm's prologue. All of these stories will be pretty crazy, so bear with me. Ichigo is narrating unless otherwise noted, just like in TM:Black.

Vehicle: Mr.Grimm

Driver: Ichigo Kurosaki

Special: Bankai Mask

Series: Bleach (manga/anime)

-----

"I've been like this for too long."

We now see a boy with orange hair and ripped black clothing, huddled in the corner of an asylum, his head in his hands and rocking back and forth.

"Everything I see is through this stupid mask...It's ruined my life."

The boy looks to us and we see he's in a crazy skeletal mask and his eyes are black with orange pupils. He begins to introduce himself as the camera zooms into the mask

"My name is Ichigo Kurosaki. I used to be a soul reaper, and I would help people by sending restless souls to their resting places. But this mask...One day... it just wouldn't come off."

We now see him struggling to get the mask off at incredible speeds.

"I was stuck with it, and...it told me to do things...HORRIBLE things. I killed everyone I knew,"

We see blood splattering over the mask, and he continues

"and it told me to keep doing it. After a while, I just stopped listening, and...I did it on my own."

The door to his asylum slowly opened and creaked, a man stepped through the door, and Ichigo looked up to see his face. It was burnt, disfigured, and he was balding. He had scars around his left eye, and Ichigo continued narrating

"One day, I felt this weird force. I had a visitor, and he said he had an offer for me."

The man said

"Hello, Ichigo. How are you feeling?"

Ichigo reached for his face, his fingers turning to skeletal claws as he scratched the air. The man jumped back, and said

"Well now, you don't want to do that."

Ichigo asked in his distorted voice

"What do you want?"

Calypso offered him his hand and said

"I can help you, Ichigo. I can give you what you want."

Ichigo was starting to get angry

"How do you know my name? and what are you talking about!?"

Calypso answers

"I know how to get the mask off."

Ichigo's eyes suddenly flashed back to his normal brown eyes. Ichigo was willing to do anything to get the mask off, and begun narrating

"How to get the mask off? This is too good to be true! So I asked him what he wanted in return."

Calypso replied

"You just have to play my game, and if you win, you get one wish. Whatever you want becomes a reality."

Ichigo stood up and Calypso handed him a thin, black sword and said

"I have your vehicle waiting outside the asylum, you must prove your worth to escape."

Calypso left the room as Ichigo stared at the sword. His eyes returned to their blackness, and he saw the blood of his friends on the sword, he thought

"I don't want to kill again, but frankly...-"

Ichigo is shown outside the asylum as he is dragging the bloody sword across the ground, his outfit covered in blood, not a scratch on him, and trudging to a motorcycle with a helmet. Ichigo continued

"I don't give a damn."

-----

Eh? What did you think? Mr. Grimm really has a reason to win, right? His bloodlust is overpowering his judgement and I've always wanted a really violent Ichigo.

4 - Darkside - Prologue

Here's a fun one, if you've never seen the show Supernatural, you might want to go familiarize yourself.

Vehicle: Darkside
Driver(s): Dean & Sam Winchester
Special: Rock Salt Barrage
Series: Supernatural (Tv)

"How could you lose the Impala?"

A guy says, apparently angry with someone. The other guy replies angrily

"I don't know! One minute it was here, and the next...Look it's just gone, okay!?"

We now see that the two guys are standing in the middle of a gas station, looking for something. One, a brown-haired young man, clearly angry with the other, while another guy is looking around angrily, thinking that he'll find it. They both hear a voice from on top of the shop

"Well well, Sam and Dean Winchester. You're reputation preceds you."

They both look to see a man with a burnt face and a scarred left eye and balding. Dean questions him

"Who the hell're you, Cyclops?"

The man laughs a bit, and answers

"Ah, Dean, the comedian. I am Calypso, I'm sure you've heard of me."

Sam is unsure, while Dean is grinning like he's won the lottery. Sam asks

"Calypso. Where have I heard that name before?"

Dean answers him happily

"It's Calypso. He's the guy that runs the Twisted Metal contest every year."

Calypso nods as Sam asks him

"What's Twisted Metal?"

Calypso says

"It's not like you to be out of the loop, Sam. My contest is dedicated to giving the winner one wish, anything they desire, and I've decided that you two boys are great contestants."

Sam sarcastically says

"Well I'm sure we can play your game, we can just walk through the places. We don't have our impala!"

Calypso assures him

"Don't worry, I have a backup plan, and it has plenty of room!"

Calypso points to the right, and the brothers look to see a modified big rig with an open space where the grill is. Dean was said

"You gotta be kidding me. This dinosaur?"

Calypso asks

"You want your Impala, right? I can bring it back to you, wherever it is, IF you win my contest."

Sam says to Dean

"I don't know Dean, this is really dangerous."

Dean walked over to the driver's seat of the car, replying

"C'mon, Sammy! We get to blow stuff up, pick up chicks...pick up chicks FOR blowing stuff up. This is perfect!"

Dean hops in the driver's seat, as Sam sighs and enters the passenger's seat, saying

"Whatever, as long as we get the Impala back."

Dean starts the engine, and loads in some ACDC into the cd player, shouting and takes off onto the open road as the horn honks.

"Woo hoo!"

-----

Looks like Dean's having fun at least. The Impala is really important to him, I guess, but they have to settle for Darkside. Darkside's story is mostly comedic, but the middle might have some bad memories.

5 - Hammerhead - Prologue

I love doing the TM:Black thing and opening with a quote from the driver.

Vehicle: Hammerhead

Driver(s): Alphonse and Edward Elric

Special: Crusher

Series: Fullmetal Alchemist (Manga/Anime)

"Why is he still like this?"

A young boy looks at a mechanical suit of armor apparently eating eggs at a restaurant. He stares at the suit, worrying and narrating

"My body returned to normal, but Al is still in that suit. How can I get him out of there?"

The suit looked at the boy, and asked in a young boy's voice

"What's wrong, brother?"

The boy waved his hand and answered

"Oh nothing, nothing."

Suddenly, A man walked into the restaurant with a burned face and a scarred left eye. He stopped behind the boy and suit, saying

"Is that suit any more comfortable by now?"

They turn to look at him, and they are shocked by his appearance. The boy asked

"Who-...(gulp) Who are you?"

The man smiled and said

"I'm glad you asked. I am Calypso, the host of Twisted Metal, and you two are Edward and Alphonse Elric."

They immediately jump up from their seats and into a hostile position, the restaurant pedestrians all look at them as the room fell deafly quiet. Al asks

"How do you know us!?"

Calypso replies quietly, but keeps their attention

"A lot of people have heard of you, boys, but I've come here to invite you to participate in my contest."

Ed asks angrily

"Why should we play your sick game!?"

Calypso answers slyly

"1 wish. Anything you want will be granted by me when you win the contest."

Ed gasps and thinks

"Anything we want!?"

Calypso continues

"You can be together again, as boys, and you can play just like before."

Al takes Ed aside and asks

"Should we play, brother?"

Ed answers

"I think so, Ed. This could help us a lot in the future. I say we do it."

Ed then turns to Calypso and asked

"What do we have to do?"

Calypso answers

"All you have to do is enter your vehicle outside, go to the appointed destination, and all will be explained."

Ed and Al simultaneously ask

"Vehicle!?"

They both walk outside the restaurant to see a large dark blue monster truck with red flames streaked on the sides. They both have trouble getting inside, but Al takes the driver's seat. Ed asks

"What the hell are you doing, Al!?"

Al replies

"Well, I'm the only one who can reach the gas pedal, I'll have to drive."

Ed shouts

"But you can't dri-AHHH!!!"

Ed is cut off when Al steps on the gas pedal and drives off into the road, clearly having problems turning.

ah, Hammerhead. Always a fun one. Nice to see another double driver story.

6 - Shadow - Prologue

I want everyone to know that Shadow is my all-time favorite twisted metal vehicle, and usually it's an old guy, so I thought it good to make Light's story about...oh whatever you'll find out soon anyway.

Vehicle: Shadow

Driver: Light Yagami

Special: Soul Shadow

Series: Death Note (Anime/Manga)

"I've taken quite a liking to being a god *COUGH*."

Light Yagami is shown standing in a large building, with the words "City Hall" on the front, looking down at his city through a large glass window. He is now very old, around 60, and has various cramps and aches. He continues

"I believe I've gotten too old for this. If only there was some way to make me young again."

Just as he finished, Ryuk came floating into the room, carrying a letter and asking

"How are you today, master?"

Ryuk was clearly more sophisticated now, and settled in as Light's partner-in-crime. However, it's not like Ryuk actually cares about Light at all. Light turns around to reveal his old face, wrinkled and such, answering

"Horribly, Ryuk. *COUGHS PAINFULLY* The RAK(Rebellers Against Kira) are still intent on destroying our headquarters, and I've gotten too old to kill them off at once. My hand cramps up after I write a single name in the Death Note."

Ryuk doesn't look concerned at all, but instead replies

"Quit your whining, if you wanna get it over with, just hand me the death note and I'll end it for you."

Light looked at Ryuk in an angry manner, but saw the letter in his hand and asked

"Where'd you get the letter? We not not supposed to get mail delivered here."

Ryuk was confused but simply answered

"It was taped on to the front door. It says it's for you."

Light walked over to Ryuk and took the letter out of his hands slowly, opening the letter just as slow. He read it aloud

"Light Yagami, or should I say 'Kira', I invite you to my Twisted Metal Tournament. You will be tested in your combat abilities against 13 other drivers, in the form of a demolition derby. Why play my game you ask? The winner recieves one wish, anything they desire to come true. Your vehicle is waiting outside, I'm sure you will have fun.

-Calypso"

Light quickly ran out of the room, in pain because of his aching body, leaving Ryuk behind and dashing down the stairs of the building. He reached the bottom and ran through the double doors, to see a purple hearse parked in front of the building. He walked slowly towards the car and entered the driver's side. He put his hands on the wheel, and thought aloud

"One wish, huh? This world will have it's god back again."

Light laughed maniacally and started the engine, racing through the streets.

Yep, mad love for Shadow. Don't be surprised if he gets his ending first.

7 - Thumper - Prologue

Here's Thumper...I guess that's all I have to say. Thumper's cool, I guess.

Vehicle: Thumper

Driver: Hiei

Special: Dragon Of The Darkness Flame (2 ways to use special, 2 is charged, 1 is uncharged. 1.The dragon head breathes black flames in front of the car, incinerating enemies for strong fire damage.

2.The dragon head comes out of the car as a full dragon made of black fire, and homes after enemies, exploding like an enhanced napalm bomb(from TM2) upon impact.)

Series: Yu Yu Hakusho (Anime/Manga)

"This *pant* isn't getting any easier *pant*."

Hiei stands over a large battlefield, covered in scars and wounds, dragging his sword and holding his left arm, which is gashed open and bleeding heavily. He walks over the dead bodies slowly as the sun sets and sees one person remaining off in the distance. He continues narrating as he dashes for them

"I'm too weak to battle this many enemies, and ever since I was left alone by my friends, everyone started ganging up on me. I know I can defend myself, but for how much longer?"

Hiei slices the man in half, and blood spurts out of him like a fountain. He drops to the ground, and Hiei later kneeled down on one knee in pain.

A man in a slick jacket walked up to Hiei, and asked him

"Quite the fighter, aren't you?"

Hiei raised his sword, ready to strike without even looking at him, and asked

"Who are you? I won't hesitate to kill you."

The man assured him by saying

"I am not here to fight, but to make you an offer."

Hiei looked up to see his burnt, scarred face and does not care much for him. He stands up and asks again, this time actually WANTING to know

"Who are you?"

The man replied in a sophisticated manner

"I am Calypso. I organize a Twisted Metal Contest every year, and I've decided that you would be a fine contestant."

Hiei knew what he was talking about, and immediately replied

"No, I won't take part in your contest. I don't need money, and no gift of yours would help me in any way."

Calypso was surprised(sarcastically) and asked

"Are you sure? Surely you know what the prize for this contest is, don't you?"

Hiei frankly did not care that is until Calypso said

"Your prize..is one wish. Anything you could ever want."

Hiei looked shocked and asked immediately

"Where do I sign up?"

Calypso smirked and said

"I like your enthusiasm, Hiei. I have arranged you the vehicle Thumper, I hope it is to your liking."

Calypso points behind him, and lets Hiei walk past him. Hiei walks towards Thumper, the pink lowrider, and said

"I'm not driving this, this car's gonna need some serious modifications."

Later,

Hiei drives Thumper out of a garage, with modifications to his personality. The car's color is now red with black flames streaked across the side of the car. There is a black dragon's head on the front of the car, and the hood is now blue with an eye painted on top of it. Hiei holds his grip on the wheel, tightening it as he thinks about the contest

"Finally, I have my chance to fight without having to tire out. When I win this contest, my power will be limitless. I will be the strongest forever!"

Hiei drives out from the town, as buildings topple over behind him in the car's destructive wake.

Eh? Cool right. Obviously Hiei wouldn't ride a pink lowrider, he had to trick it out. Anyway, Thumper is very cool, but I wanted to give him a ranged special, however it's a long charge-up. Anyway, Hiei wants absolute power, so get ready to rock and roll with this badass!

8 - Crimson Fury - Prologue

I know this story doesn't have any girls in it, but at least Blaze counts as a girl. I like Blaze, and her equivalence is probably Crimson Fury, due to both of them only being in a few games. Also, Blaze has a british accent here, just cuz.

Vehicle: Crimson Fury

Driver: Blaze The Cat (ANIMALS CAN DRIVE IN A FANTASY STORY)

Special: Burning Rush

Series: Sonic The Hedgehog (Sonic Rush, and Sonic Rush Adventure. Notice I'm not including sonic '06 because that game SUCKED @$$.)

-----

"Damn that Sonic."

Blaze the Cat stood over a large destroyed mechanical tower, apparently egg-shaped, and watches angrily as a blue blur races away from her, covered in 7 different glows. She narrates

"He's so hung up on treasure, he even stole my sol emeralds! I knew I couldn't trust that spiny little punk."

We now see Blaze walking the streets of new york, all alone and a man walks up to her holding a badge. She continues narrating

"I was at least noticed for my capabilities recently. A man named Agent Shepard introduced me to a twisted metal contest that I could compete in. Best of all, Sonic was a participant."

She enters a garage to see a bright red lamborghini with machine guns and missles attached. It had turbo boosters in the back, and the windows were tinted. Blaze continues again

"Not only was I allowed to compete, I was sworn in as a member of the C.I.A before starting this mission. They wanted me to arrest Calypso, the organizer of the tournament, if I should win the contest. I agreed, and started driving away."

Soon, Calypso heard of this uninvited contestant through one of his guards at his headquarters (his new garage)

"Calypso, sir, a new participant in the contest has entered somehow."

Calypso turned toward the guard and asked

"How is that possible? Do you have an identification?"

The guard nodded and handed him a picture of Blaze in the Lamborghini on a freeway. Calypso pondered this for a while, but answered

"I'll allow it, such a driver is a perfect fit for that car, this just saves me time."

Calypso smirked evilly and said

"If she is killed, I will just leave her body to rot in the wreckage."

Calypso laughs maniacally at this and wishes her luck.

We see Blaze racing down the road towards the first destination as thoughts go through her head

"I won't give in to the stupid Americans and their decisions. When I win this contest, I'm gonna find my soul emeralds, even if I have to burn everyone alive."

The car starts to light on fire and drive at a much faster speed.

Yeah it's short, but Blaze is cool.

9 - Outlaw - Prologue

http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=4xwXOj55nIY&eurl=http%3A%2F%2Fwww%2Esnafu%2Dcomics%2Ecom%2F&feature=player\_embedded

Holy...fracking...shoot man! Can you believe how awesome this is!?

Also, fan-frackING-tastic news for you all. I have finally bought myself my very own ps2, FINALLY. Also, I just got Twisted Metal:Head on: Extra Twisted Edition in the mail today. Why is this good news for you? Well, while I'm in such a great mood, expect 3 new chapters of TM:Oblivion, AND the new TSOH chap 43. If you're a fan, get ready to get your mind blowed the frack out!!

Btw, frack YEAH!!!"

Vehicle: Outlaw

Driver: Nero

Special: Devil Bringer

Series: Devil May Cry (specifically DMC4)

I've changed Outlaw the most here, but he does have similar interests as an Outlaw driver would have.

"All this destruction, and for what!?"

We see Nero standing on top of a large building, it's foundation very weak and crumbling as he oversees a large city in flames and wreckage. He continues narrating as he slams his sword into the building

"Calypso organizes a Twisted Metal contest every year, and lets people get one wish if they win, but it always goes awry. Every past contest has ended in this kind of death and destruction, just so Calypso could get a few rotten laughs watching the world burn."

We turn past Nero and see Calypso holding an invitation in the air towards him. Nero closes his eyes and does not turn, but simply asks

"So, you came to ask me to join your sick little game, eh?"

Calypso replies

"You could just say 'Yes' and I could leave you to your usual brooding. After all, when have you ever done anything to stop me, hmm?"

Nero turns and points his sword angrily at Calypso and shouts

"Me and you, Calypso. No tricks! When I win this contest, we'll fight to the death! That's what I want you bastard!"

Calypso laughs slightly, tosses the invitation to Nero's feet, and says

"We will see, Nero. Until then, follow me, I will escort you and your vehicle to your first destination."

Calypso jumps off of the building and falls quickly to the ground. Nero, wondering where he went, runs over to the side where Calypso jumped, only to see a police car at the bottom in his place. Calypso was a few yards away in a limo, waving to him from below as it drove away.

Nero was very angry with this, and threw his sword at the police car and jumped after it. The sword landed on the hood of the car, destroying the sirens and the noise they were creating stopped immediately. The sword stuck right in the hood, and stayed there as Nero landed just off to the side of the car, and opened the driver's door. He entered slowly, and situated himself to adjust to the small space. He continued narrating

"I will kill Calypso, and anyone in my way if necessary. I'll put an end to this contest no matter what. The cities will be safe again, I promise you this...Dante."

Nero sped off in the car, hot on the limo's trail.

I find it so hypocritical that Nero will "kill anyone in his way" while calling that violence "unnecessary". Anyway, you'll know what he's talking about in his middle, but I'm sure you like his way pf solving problems. I wish I implemented more curses into his prologue, but I feel that I've cursed way too much in the intro already XD.

10 - Spectre - Prologue

Spectre's my 2nd fave, right under Shadow. Continuing on my good mood from last chap, I'm finishing the prologues tonight.

Vehicle: Spectre
Driver: Spike Spiegel
Special: Ghost Missles
Series: Cowboy Bebop (Anime/Manga)

"I've been dead for 20 years now."

Spike appears as a bright blue ghost, walking through the city park, no one noticing him, his hands in his pockets and his head down. He continued

"The years haven't been kind to me, I can't find my friends from the 'Bebop incident', and all I can do is roam the earth with no hope for anything.....That was, until Calypso showed up."

Calypso was sitting on a park bench wearing sunglasses for a change, but they were no ordinary sunglasses, as they had a large scanner over the eyes. Calypso spoke to him

"You seem to be enjoying yourself this fine day."

Spike was a bit surprised, and asked

"How can you see me?"

Calypso refused to answer the question, instead changing the subject

"You've heard of my Twisted Metal contest, right?"

Spike nodded and answered

"Yeah, I've seen some documentaries on cable, but nothing big as of yet."

Calypso asked

"How would you like to be a participant?"

Spike had no idea how he could compete, but simply asked

"What would I win?"

Calypso smirked, as he loves telling newcomers about his contest, and said

"Your prize, is one wish, anything you could ever desire."

Spike gasped and asked

"Anything I want?... Alright, I'll play your game."

Calypso was glad to hear it so quickly, and continued

"Your vehicle awaits you down that way."

Calypso pointed behind him, and Spike followed suit.

He walked far enough until he saw a white sports car with some blue racing stripes. He said

"Hmm, I can work with this."

Spike entered the driver's seat and decided what he wanted immediately

"I can't stand being alone like this any longer. I'll wish myself alive again and find my friends, they'll know what I should do...I sure as hell don't."

Spike drives away in the car, and we hear an eerie ghost noise as the engine roars.

Sweet! Sorry some of these are so short, but they're only prologues. Spectre is cool, no matter what driver.

11 - Warhog - Prologue

I've been holding this one off, as I don't know much about Barret, but if anything in this plot doesn't match FF7, let me know in the comments. Also, hilarious TheLonelyIsland song here <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=R7yfISIGLNU> . Sorry I recommend things to you people. It's just that if you can appreciate my sense of humor/awesomeness, then you're a good person to me. If not, well you know you don't HAVE to click the links.

Vehicle: Warhog
Driver: Barret Wallace
Special: Patriot Missile
Series: Final Fantasy (specifically 7)

"I thought she was safe. I thought all this was over."

Barret Wallace stood in front of an old cabin being burned to the ground in a huge fire, looking horrified as he sees a small girl dead in the center. Barret holds up a note that he found, which reads "Precious things do not come easily, Barret. See how it feels to lose them."

Barret crushed the note in his hand and cried tears of anger. He could not do anything to save the girl, but continued narrating

"I only stood there and watched as Marlene's corpse burned to the ground. I had no idea who could've done this, or why, but that punk is going to die for what he did!"

Calypso was standing a few feet behind Barret and asked

"Why cry over a dead memory when you can do something to get it back?"

Barret turned angrily and shouted

"Get away, you freak! I ain't got no business wit you!"

Calypso took a step back, leaving him with some personal space, but still asked

"I can help you, Mr. Wallace. Your precious little girl Marlene can be returned to you if you win my contest."

Barret merely yelled back at Calypso, crying more tears and pointing his gatling gun-like hand at him

"Why do you care!?! You ain't got no idea how it feels to lose somethin' precious to you, especially a little girl like that!"

Calypso bowed his head, remembering past bad memories. Calypso solemnly replied

"No, Mr. Wallace, I do. She was my own little girl, and I could only watch and feel the pain of letting her go, just like you. I didn't succeed when I tried to bring her back but you can."

Barret put his arm down, and thought about what his life would be like without Marlene. After a few seconds he confidently asked

"This contest you got,...what do I have to do?"

Calypso looked at him, and saluted saying

"I'm glad you've agreed. You're a real patron, Barret. Your vehicle is right behind me, you will be sent the directions to your first destination."

Barret leaned to the side of Calypso and saw an old military tank equipped with a large missile on the top. He dropped the note on the ground and stepped on it as he walked towards the tank.

Barret put his hand over the side of the car, feeling the age it had gone through, and reached the driver's side. He opened the door and entered, saying

"This thing's got firepower,...good. I WILL win this contest, and Marlene will come back to me, forever."

Barret drove off and left the house in flames as Calypso laughed maniacally.

Okay, not bad, short, but It really doesn't matter as this is a prologue. Warthog is determined to get his little girl back, which is good, as he's violent because of it.

12 - Sweet Tooth - Prologue

Bout time I got to a driver who never changes. Sweet Tooth is awesome!

Vehicle: Sweet Tooth

Driver: Needles Kane>Marcus Kane (Needles is in control)

Special: Napalm cone

Series: Twisted Metal (every single game)

-----

"This noise is getting on my nerves."

We see the vehicle Sweet Tooth, parked at a gas station, and Needles Kane coming out of the shop, stained in blood. He sees a person refilling his gas tank, and lunges at him with a knife. The man is frightened, but as soon as Needles gets close enough he falls to the ground and shouts in a voice unlike his own

"Get away, quickly! I'm a murderer!"

The man agreed, and without haste he hopped into his car and drove away. Needles was struggling on the ground, looking as if he was having a seizure, only to stand up a few seconds later and angrily punch his truck. He narrates

"Ever since I won last year's Twisted Metal contest, I've been hearing this voice telling me not to kill. To think about 'peaceful solutions' and it keeps telling me that I'm crazy. I'M CRAZY!? That may be, but no one tells me not to kill."

Needles entered Sweet Tooth, and drove off towards Midtown as he continued to think

"The next Twisted Metal is coming up again, and I can't have this voice nagging at me. Calypso is going to mkae me who I really am. Not a bug, not Calypso, not any other kane, but I am...Sweet Tooth."

The insane laughter comes from the truck as it races through the streets of Midtown, firing missiles and machine guns at anything or anyone in it's way.

Alright, I know what you're thinking. "WHAT!? THAT'S IT!?" Well rest assured, Sweet Tooth is merely a guest character, he has a short prologue, no middle, and a short ending. He's there because he'll always be there. Roadkill is next, but keep in mind that he is also a guest character. Think of these 2 as unlockable characters like in black, they were there only for past memories and coolness.

13 - Roadkill - Prologue

Only a guest character. He has a short prologue, a short middle, and a short ending. I always had a soft spot for Roadkill and his confusing situations. Also, Here's a time paradox for you all. Roadkill's story takes place AFTER Sweet Tooth wins this year's TM, try and figure that out.

Vehicle: Roadkill

Driver: Marcus Kane

Special: Boomerang

Series: Twisted Metal (all except 4. in 1 and black it had different drivers.)

-----

"Sometimes, I don't know who I am anymore."

Marcus Kane is driving in Roadkill down the streets of Midtown, thinking to himself

"After I became myself, I began to live in this nightmare that had plagued my entire life. These...Contests that I participate were all in my mind but I made the mistake of bringing them to life with me!"

Marcus got more aggressive and drove faster, now going much faster than any civilian on the street. He continued narrating, much more confused now

"Everything that I had was destroyed. I woke up from my nightmare not too long ago, but when I did...Everything fell apart. I was alone with the world and its anger. Nothing I could do could change it. Until I found the flyer."

We now see Marcus holding up a flyer to his face and thinking logically

"The Twisted Metal contest had always been my saving grace in my nightmares, but I asked too many questions, and I never understood what I was doing. But now...I finally understand. This is the last Twisted Metal contest I will ever compete in, and Calypso will make sure of that."

-----

Don't worry, All is/will be explained in Sweet Tooth and Roadkill's endings.

14 - Minion - Prologue

Minion, HE'S A BOSS <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=NisCkxU544c> . Btw, these last few characters are like unlockable ones, they have short stories, and some are missing middles.

Vehicle: Minion
Driver: Minion
Special: Hellfire
Series: Twisted Metal

-----

"Calypso always seem to escape me every year."

Minion stands atop his giant tank, watching over a burning city in chaos and narrating

"Every time I trap him, he somehow finds a way out. I'm beginning to think there's on,y one way to end Twisted Metal and get my powers back."

Minion looks at a poster for Twisted Metal: Oblivion and continued

"This year's Twisted Metal looks bigger than ever, and If I can't take my powers from Calypso, I might as well take them from the contestants!"

Minion re-enters the tank and drives over the rubble, including the poster.

Mmkay, Minion's done. I'm so glad I can write short chapters now as I am so used to writing epic, long ones in my (soon-to-be) Award-Winning TSOH story.

15 - Twister - Prologue

Sorry, it's been awhile but now that I'm done TSOH(the prototype at least) and I'm back into TM, I can continue this for all of you TM fans. C'mon, who WOULDNT pick Sonic as Twister? It's so friggin obvious.

Vehicle: Twister

Driver: Sonic The Hedgehog

Special: Sonic Boom

Series: Sonic Series (all of them I think.)

-----

"Damn, still not fast enough."

Sonic The Hedgehog had been racing through the streets of Midtown, scaling up buildings and racing right past vehicles and people like a blue blur. He had stopped at the City hall, only to see an old man in a purple hearse driving away. He read his stop watch, to read that he travelled the 20 mile distance in only .002 miliseconds. Sonic was unimpressed with his recent records, thinking that he still wasn't fast enough. Sonic thought to himself

"Man, I've been in a slump lately. I just can't run as fast as I want to. There's got to be a way to run faster."

Sonic looked around, and saw a sign posted on the side of the city hall building. He ran over to read it, and it read in big red letters

"Twisted Metal Tournament!

What would you want more than anything in the whole world?

ANYTHING YOU WANT CAN BE YOURS!"

Sonic's eyes widened at the thought of getting anything he wanted. Suddenly he heard a voice come from behind him

"You like that don't you?"

Sonic turned quickly to see the person speaking to him, and it was Calypso (as if you didn't know), and Sonic asked him

"What are you doing here, Calypso? Shouldn't you be off ruining someone else's life?"

Calypso smirked at him, merely replying

"I'm inviting you to participate in my contest. After all, you DO want to be faster, right? I can make it happen."

Sonic was angry at the thought of killing innocent people and shouted

"I'm not gonna play your sick game, Calypso! I have no intention of killing innocent people to get what I want!"

Calypso quietly replied to him

"Now Sonic, you know full well none of my participants are innocent. This is a serious game we play here, and I thought you would participate willingly...but if you're fine with having the bare minimum of your top speed...(he gestures to Sonic's right, which shows the Twister vehicle revving its engine) then I guess I can just leave you to wander in self-pity."

Sonic quickly retorts

"NO!...I'll drive in your contest. I'll win and become the fastest thing in the entire universe!"

Sonic enters Twister and places his hands on the wheel, thinking

("I'm not used to driving, but I guess It'll have to do.")

"I used to have a dream like you..."

Sonic heard this womanly voice coming from his vehicle, and quickly asked

"Whoah, who said that!?"

"Name's Amanda. Don't ask how I got in here. It's a long story, but now that you're here, we're gonna have some fun."

Sonic gulped at this, and thought to himself

("This car can talk and it's a girl!? Aww man, this is gonna suck.")

Sonic drives off in Twister but it seems that the car is driving itself in his stead.

Calypso is left behind and finally says aloud

"That takes care of everyone, now all that's left to do introduce the contestants in the first round.

Everyone, Welcome to Twisted Metal: Oblivion!"

-----

The first round will commence next week, the participants are Outlaw, Shadow, Warthog, Spectre, and Darkside. Please comment on who should win the first round, only 2 of the 5 participants will be reborn for later rounds, the other 2 will be left for death. YOU decide the winner! After 3 rounds, all the middles will be written, then 3 more rounds and the winner's ending will be out. Then I will write the other ending alphabetically.
