0 - info

Dracatling: Creatures that are very powerful and are usually calm. Cat-like paws for hands and feet, two tails that have fur and scales swirled together, large dragon wings that can protect them from most spells. They usually have gem like eyes. Scales that are on hips, collar bone and spine. In rare cases there will be scales on the face near the mouth or along the cheekbone. IF enraged they will harm anything that seems threatening. They have an animal form where they are a cat about the size of a jaguar with razor sharp fangs, claws and wings if needed. Scales along spine and around paws.

Humanimal: They look like humans with animalistic features. They do not have to take the same features as their parents but of their 'inner animal'. They can have muggle or magical inner animals. They also have that animals instinct.

Some want to follow a Dracatling into the dracatling finds a mate.

1 - The Change and Ninjas

This is a HP/Naruto crossover. I do not own either if I did there would be a whole lot more yaoi/slash. How ever HP belongs to J.K. Rowling and Naruto belongs to Masashi Kishimoto. no flames please but constructive criticism is fine. The six book hasn't happened. when Gaara and Naruto are talking its in Japanese just so you know

Harry was washing the last of the dishes, he didn't know that he was being watched. He did know however that something was going to happen soon. Two people were at the kitchen window. One growled at the way the raven haired teen was being treated. It brought back unpleasant memories of how they used to be treated. He had yellow-blond hair, sapphire blue eyes, tan skin and three whisker-like marks on each cheek. The other had blood red hair, teal eyes, pale skin and dark circles around his eyes making him look like a human panda. They were shinobi sent by the Headmaster of Hogwarts. "Naruto calm down remember the Potter boy is not supposed to know about us unless absolutely necessary," The redhead said. "He needs someone to keep that creature off his back! I got more food than Harry does and you know it, Gaara!" Naruto yelled. The redhead sighed but knew that what his teammate was saying was very true. "Fine what are you planning?" "Boy get to cleaning or get out!" Uncle Vernon growled. Harry looked around to see if he missed something, he didn't notice the blood that was pooling behind him that was coming from his back. "Uncle Vernon I've already cleaned everything," Harry said. "Get your stuff and get out of my house!" Vernon roared. Harry quickly packed his stuff from his room and let Hedwig out of her cage. Thanking whatever god that helped him, he bolted from the house. Not wanting any one from the Order to know he was leaving the Dudley's home, he quickly threw his invisibility cloak around his trunk and himself. The two shinobi followed him with ease. They didn't know that Harry was being followed by something else. People with animal parts listened to Harry go by, they knew that he was going through the Dracatling Change and he would need help. They slipped away to inform their own Dracatling that another was around the territory. "Bring the young one to Dragon Manor and make sure he is comfortable," the pearl-eyed Dracatling said. A cat humanoid bowed and disappeared. The other humanimals began to clean the manor's unused rooms. "Lord the young one is here but he's asleep right now. Also two people followed us, would you like us to let them in?" "If you feel no ill will let them in," the Dracatling told the humanoid. The dragon nodded and threw open the doors. "Welcome friends of the young Dracatling," He said spotting the mess of red and yellow-blond hair. "How did he know we were following him?" "The wind blew your scent to him" "Do you think we should go in?" Naruto asked Gaara, who nodded.
