Haiku Poem's

A Haiku is a Japanese form of poetry that has only three short lines. In the three lines there are only usually seventeen syllables, often arranged like this:

1. The first line has five syllables.
2. The second line has seven syllables.
3. The third line has five syllables.

A Haiku is a very effective way of using a few words to say a lot. It is very much like a small snapshot in words.

World Peace

I wish for world peace

Because then there wouldn't be

Any more world wars.

The Sea

The wonderful sea

It is a nice place to be

I love the blue sea.

A Christmas tree

See the sparkling tree

So bright against the white snow

Colorful and green.

My favorite Animal

I love the dolphin

So intelligent and wise

As it swiftly moves

The summer

The baking hot sun

As it shines down from above

The summer is here.

India

No water at noon

No electricity at dusk

This is India.
