(Kakashi's Pov)

I had graduated out of the ninja academy and was about to be put into my squad.

"Squad twelve is... Aimi Uchiha," Aimi started cheering. "Kakashi Hatake" I just sorta sat there, "and Guy Might." Guy stared over at Aimi and then realized we were in the same squad he looked away from Aimi and back at the teacher. "Your sensei is Jesna Hyuuga." As the ceremony went on I got more and more bored. I stared over at Aimi who was looking over Guy's shoulder at me. Finally it was over and we met with our sensei. We walked out of the academy to the forest just outside the village.

"Hello there I'm Jesna Hyuuga but you can call me Jesna sensei. I really want to get to know you so why don't you say your name what you like what you dislike what you dream and what you hope. I'll go first. Hi I'm Jesna Hyuuga what I like is to be treated fairly what I hate is when somebody's left out, my dream is to someday find a cure for the common cold and I hope we all have fun being Squad 12. You raven-haired girl why don't you go next." I stared at Aimi for a while as she made a fist on her light blue dress.

"My name is Aimi Uchiha, what I like is..." she stared at me. "What I hate is... GUY MIGHT." Guy looked sad. "My dream is to someday be an artist, and my hopes are on my mom because of her pregnancy with my younger brother, Itachi. Hey Kakashi why don't you go next." I pointed at myself.

"My name is Kakashi Hatake, what I like is actually sitting next to me, what I hate is on the other side of me, what I dream is to be a great ninja someday, and my hopes also go to Aimi's mother, Gai why don't you go now?" Aimi blushed when I said what I liked, she knew I meant her, also she was happy someone also wanted her mother to have a healthy baby.

"My name is Guy Might what I like seems to be on the branch two branches away, what I hate is sitting right next to me, what I dream of is marrying the girl I love, and my hopes are that I'll be sexy someday and have someone follow in my footsteps." He smiled and Aimi looked disgusted. Jesna noticed there seemed to be quite a connection with me and Aimi.

"It seems Aimi is pretty popular and Guy is very much a showoff. Everyone come on we need to start our ninja training, Kakashi and Guy pair up me and Aimi will team up, for this exercise you are going to battle the person you were teamed with, but you aren't allowed to use any jutsu's just taijutsu weapons and for Aimi your Sharingan." I had always wanted the Sharingan since it seemed powerful.

What will happen next, will the kids win the battle, will Aimi ever beat the crap out of Guy

(kakashi's pov)

During the battle between Guy and myself Aimi cheered and also danced. soon I had guy pinned to the ground right were I wanted him to be. Aimi had won against Jesna sensei with the reverse lotus. that part of training was done ,but Aimi was going back home to rest she said reverse lotus is very dangerous and that it uses most of your chakara. I volentered to walk her home and I did. she stared at me on the way there a few times.

" So it seems you like me, I like you to and we both hate guy becuase he's a showoff and we also hope my mom makes a healthy delivery... If I didn't know anybetter I'd say you want me to be your girlfriend." Aimi stared at me longer I couldn't believe it she wanted me to be her boyfriend... I had no problem with that. she was Pretty and smart and cute but, I never imageined her liking me in return.

"if i didn't know any better I'd say that your asking me to be your boy friend... and I would so love that." so from then on end Aimi and I would be able to say I dated her or I dated that guy. Ohh if only I could read a book about this stuff at my age.

After training I went on home and dropped my stuff in my room and back down for dinner.

"Kakashi how was your day today." My mom asked I just gave a smile.

"nothing much I got put in a ninja squad today I got a girlfriend." my mom spat out the water she was drinking.

" a girlfriend why who would that be let me guess... is it Hanako?" I nodded my head in disagreement. "lets see females that went to the academy was it Aimi Uchiha." I nodded my head in agreement. she had a sort of sad yet happy face on making me more curious.

" Mom whats wrong aren't you happy I got a companion?" I asked looking at my mom she stood up from where she was standing and walked over to the window.

"Kakashi I am it's just my little babies growing up so fast." she held onto me.

the next night my mother and father died in an Ambush so Aimi invited me to her house for a while. this also ment I'd meet the uchiha clan. when I got there Aimi greeted me with a kiss on the cheek.

"come on in Kakashi your food is getting cold... and my parents are at the hospital so were alone." we tip toed down to the kitchen where I had some left overs. "sorry we couldn't have you over earlier it's just the ambulance came to take my Moma to the hospital to give birth. they did know you were coming so they left the fire on." Aimi was being hospital to me trying to comfort me. "I've been having dreams about this baby's future... in them he kills everyone in my clan minus me and a little boy about our age named sasuke... he must be destined to do that stuff to my clan."

the next week we went to ninja training and there was jesna sensei cleaning guy off.

"what happened here?" Aimi ran up to guy.

"guy tried getting ahead for our mission and ran into a tree and now he's bleeding from his sides and his noes wait and also from under his brows." Me and Aimi walked away.

"guys Our mission today is very dangerous becuase I've seen you fight and you deserve a dangerous job... our mission is to go to the north pole and try to help the poor north polians with a seige that's been going on for years now." Aimi was happy she brought her winter stuff.

"hey jesna sensei guess what... MY MOM GAVE BIRTH TO A MONSTER NAMED ITACHI." Aimi hated her younger brother already he pulled her hair and laughed at me

"now Aimi don't say that about your brother just think itachi might just be able to be a great ninja someday." Aimi groaned at this remark

"fine lets get this mission started. at least I get away from that monster for a few days
